Dennis Green, Freedmen's Hospital, sixty-eighty years. Harriet Louisa Lomax, 2133 G street northwest, thirty years. Lear Ann Janey, 529 Goff's court north-east, ninety-one years. "Better appreciation of what is mean by the reduction of infant mortality." continues the report, "will be had when it is stated that had the same rate of infant mortality prevailed in 1913 that prevailed during 1894 the total number COL. JOHN W. AVIRETT DIES prevailed during 1894 the total number of deaths of Infants under one year of age would have been 2,105, whereas as a matter of fact there were only 828, a saving of 1,277 lives. It might be surmised that this reduction in infant mortality has been due to the diminished birth rate. As a mater of fact, however, the birth rate in the District of Columbia in 1894, as computed upon the basis of recorded births only, was 18,5 per 1,600, and the birth rate in 1913 similarly computed was 19,5. In order, however, to eliminate any reasonable possibility of error, attention may be called to the saving of life shown by the infant death rate computed upon the basis of recorded births within the period during which birth records have been practically computed. AT HOME IN CUMBERLAND Editor and Publisher of Evening CUMBERLAND, Md., May 29 .- Col. John W. Avirett, fifty-one years old, ed-lina, was reared in Winchester, Va. He was a son of the late Rev. James Battle Avirett, an Episcopal clergyman, who was the first commissioned chaplain in the Confederate army.

Formerly of Silver Spring, Md.

Col. Avirett came to Cumberland in 1884 from Silver Spring, Md., and took charge of the Evening Times. He was a member of the staff of the late Gov. Elihu E. Jackson and for nine years he served as state game warden. Col. Aviett was a member of the advisory of the two parents. In addition, the Instructive Visiting Nurses Society is notified each day of all births under the ministration of midwives, so that both mother and baby may be early afforded the benefit of skilled nursing and advices. Upon receipt of a notice of this kind, a trained nurse from the society visits the mother's residence to give assistance, and, if necessity requires, material aid. The record of the department with respect to mortality among the infants thus referred to the Instructive Visiting Nurses Society has been most grati-ying, it is stated.

47 MILES OF FLOWERS, MANY ACRES OF COLOR

Oakland, Cal., Residents Plan Beautification of City as Greeting to Visitors in 1915.

OAKLAND, Cal., May 29.-Forty-seven miles of flowers and acres of bloom along the main thoroughfares, and masses of color throughout the streets will greet visitors to Oakland the general committee of the Garder City Soldier movement are fully worked three districts, with schoolhouses as the unit and improvement and women's clubs of the various localities as the super visors. Twenty thousand school children are organized into companies of garden soldiers. This army, with their parents and teachers, members of fifty-five im-provement clubs, thirty-two women's or-provement clubs, thirty-two women's organizations, nineteen civic clubs, the real estate associations, school board, playground commission, park directors and police department form the working force that will make Oakland the garden suot of California.

Each district will be given a list of common, hardy flowers, requiring little water, to be planted between sidewalk and curb, with the suggestion that a definite scheme be carried out. Each child will be asked to contribute plants or seeds from its own garden for the city beautification. The schoolhouse will be the clearing house. It is particularly desired that present growths are not disturbed. The summer will be devoted to cleaning up and making the soil ready for the early fall planting.
